About me

I'm an experienced South Wales based Cameraman / Shooting Director and Producer who works in broadcast, commercials and branding. I have strong technical skills shooting on a variety of different cameras; I'm also a gimbal operator. I am used to working within various sized production crews, however one of my specialisms is being able to work independent of the production team if needed. Instances include being sent as a solo cameraman all around Australia including the outback, deep into the Peruvian Amazon on an expedition, shoots in India, UAE, Sweden and covering the high profile World Economic forum in Switzerland. These type of projects require a huge amount of trust in my ability. I'm meticulous, resourceful and well organised. I'm not shy of hard work, the pressure of responsibility or long hours. I'm used to working around high profile people and celebrities, and have a great amount of experience working with Police forces across the UK creating appeal films and accompanying officers as a cameraman on raids and operations. I love whiskey, I don't like olives. I've not listed all my work below, I've done a lot, please see a selection of projects. I own a lot of my own kit if needed. I've made an effort to have diversity in my work across many mediums as I find variety inspires creativity, it keeps me on my toes and progressive.
